Sensitivity Sensations Feelings Sensory Felt. Almost all the senses

We offer the possibility to participate in something unique and different. In the shining darkness, one feels, one enjoys, one touches.

The emotions and the feelings you have are beyond words but you are reacting to different things. Why? Because each person sees the world in a different way. We eat what we see and what the flavours, aromas and taste suggest. In this environment, your remaining four senses are enhanced because your sight is removed freeing your mind.

This project intends to improve your weakened senses through a unique gastronomic experience.

The supper of the senses doesn't try to increase the number of blind people in our society, but to experience the world without the prejudice of image where you'll experience completely the taste, the sounds, the touch and the smells in your own world.

In the absence of sight, you are bombarded with a kaleidoscope of images, surprising tastes, delicate aromas, which then disperse bringing new perceptions and opening new spaces where one will travel free and intimately.

The supper of the senses is a window to the imagination and the senses. You can't explain it with words, one has to live it.

The Essence of the Senses

Time and space lose their meaning
The fingers are your eyes
In the darkness the physical speaks
The colours have sounds
You measure smells by distances
Silence directs thoughts
Eyes that can't see, worlds that open
